Fall Intern: Asian Economies (600-410)
American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research (AEI)

Position Type: Internship (Fall or Spring Part-Time)

Desired Major(s): All Majors

Location: Washington, District of Columbia (United States)

Description: Derek Scissors is a Resident Scholar at AEI, where he focuses on Asian economic issues, especially the Chinese and Indian economies and US economic relations with Asian countries. The Asian Economies intern will be responsible for researching and media monitoring of Chinese outward investment, fact-checking, and providing support for ongoing projects.

Job Function: Other

Desired Class Level(s): Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, Senior

Qualifications: Interested candidates should demonstrate a strong interest in Asian economics, the ability to conduct independent research, and strong analytic skills. Work ethic and attention to detail are highly valued. Ability to easily and quickly read Mandarin Chinese is required.

Fall Intern: Demographics and Political Economy (410-410)
American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research (AEI)

Position Type: Internship (Fall or Spring Part-Time)

Desired Major(s): All Majors

Location: Washington, District of Columbia (United States)

Description: Resident Scholar Nicholas Eberstadt focuses on global demographic trends and economic development, with a current emphasis on China, India, and other developing nations. He also researches North Korea, poverty in the United States, foreign aid, and global health and mortality (especially HIV/AIDS and Alzheimer’s).

Job Function: Other

Desired Class Level(s): Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, Senior

Qualifications: Interns will do quantitative analysis, background research, fact-checking, and editing for articles and ongoing projects. Attention to detail and experience with Excel is a must. Experience with STATA highly desirable. Proficiency in Mandarin Chinese preferred.
Policy (439-410)
American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research (AEI)

Position Type: Internship (Fall or Spring Part-Time)

Desired Major(s): All Majors

Location: Washington, District of Columbia (United States)

Description: The Center for Internet, Communications and Technology Policy focuses on issues related to the high-tech economy, the Internet and communications regulation. Interns will assist the Director of the Center and his research team with a broad range of projects and topical areas such as net neutrality, patent reform, and cybersecurity. Primary assignments may include scholarly research, event and conference planning, and writing economic briefs.

Job Function: Other

Desired Class Level(s): Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, Senior

Qualifications: Candidates must have excellent writing, analytical, and research skills. Experience with Excel and STATA preferred.

---

Intern
Milken Institute

Position Type: Summer Internship

Desired Major(s): Behavioral and Social Sciences/Economics, Business/Finance, Business/Business and Management (MS), Business/Business Administration (MBA), Public Policy/Public Management (GRAD), Public Policy/Public Policy (GRAD), Public Policy/Public Administration MPS (GRAD)

Location: Washington, District of Columbia (United States)

Description: The Milken Institute, with offices in Washington, DC, and Santa Monica, CA, is an independent, non-partisan economic think tank with a mission to improve lives around the world by advancing innovative economic and financial policy solutions that create jobs, widen access to capital, and enhance health.

The Milken Institute Center for Financial Markets, based in Washington, DC, is seeking a graduate student or undergraduate senior for a paid Summer Internship. The candidate's coursework and/or major should have a significant focus on finance or economics, and the candidate should demonstrate an interest in one or more of the following aspects of public policy:

- Global banking regulation
- Capital markets and infrastructure financing in developing countries
- U.S. housing finance and GSE reform
- The JOBS Act and access to capital for start-ups and small businesses
- Financial market education for improved public policy

The position requires strong attention to detail, the ability to use Excel, comfort engaging Congressional offices on the phone, and research and writing skills.

To apply, candidates should submit a cover letter, resume, and writing sample in .doc or .pdf format to Moutusi Sau at micfm@milkeninstitute.org. Ideally, the candidate will be available from June until early September, but some flexibility is allowed. Please refer to our website, milkeninstitute.org, for more information about the Milken Institute. Successful completion of a background check is required for employment in this position. The Milken Institute welcomes applications from all qualified candidates.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Job Function:</th>
<th>Research</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Desired Class Level(s):</td>
<td>Masters Candidate</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Salary Level:</td>
<td>$10/hour</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
| Qualifications: | The candidate's coursework and/or major should have a significant focus on finance or economics, and the candidate should demonstrate an interest in one or more of the following aspects of public policy:

- Global banking regulation
- Capital markets and infrastructure financing in developing countries
- U.S. housing finance and GSE reform
- The JOBS Act and access to capital for start-ups and small businesses
- Financial market education for improved public policy |