Are you student looking for a summer internship with a mission-driven organization? Do you want to take a step into public service at a fast-paced 21st century agency? Do you have the desire to impact the lives of everyday American families? If so, an internship with the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) may be right for you!

The Impact You’ll Have

As an intern in the Pathways Program, you’ll work directly with a seasoned member of our team to assist in a variety of operational and ad hoc projects. You will impact our overall mission through assistance with the timely execution of projects such as technology updates, public relations, market research, reporting & analysis, legal/enforcement as well as various other start-up initiatives. We’ll even provide the on-the-job training you need to be successful.

What You’ll Get

Working in the trenches with some of the Federal Governments finest is just the beginning.

Get a taste of how a high-energy bureau functions day-to-day while potentially gaining exposure to multiple divisions. Finally take those classroom lessons and apply them to the real world, while building a network of professionals that can mentor you throughout your career. And, you’ll be setting yourself up for potential full-time federal employment opportunities in the future.

What We’re Looking For

We need current students from various degree programs to serve as interns at our main offices in D.C., as well as other amazing cities across the country. No matter your academic background, you must possess a relentless commitment to professional and organizational excellence. Strong written and verbal communication skills are a must, as well as demonstrated ability to work in a fast-paced multidisciplinary environment. Successful candidates will show the drive to be a leader in their field and on their campus, while maintaining high academic standards.

We have hired summer interns in the following divisions and offices:

Operations Administration, Finance, Human Capital, Technology, Consumer Response, and Inclusion

Consumer Education & Engagement Engagement, Education, Empowerment, Older Americans, Servicemembers, and Students

Supervision, Enforcement & Fair Lending

External Affairs Communications, Community Affairs, Intergovernmental Affairs and Legislative Affairs

Legal Division General Law & Ethics, Oversight, Litigation & Enforcement Support, Law & Policy
